

Amany Mostafa Abed

Summery

The Role of The Private Sector in Qualifying of Technical Education Students to The Labor Market (study case in the ready-made garment field)

It requires the establishment of product community to provide qualified and capablen an power on production And the employment of specialized technical cadres capable to carry out its responsibility of the requirements for economic development This represents an important dimension of technical education in economic development through the provision of man power to entering the labor market, The problem with this study is to a gap between technical education and labor market requirements, As well as the failure to provide material support enough to this type of education, also Outlook societal surface graduate of technical education schools that it is not a university The general objectives of this study is to encourage businessmen interested in industrial technical education to provide the necessary support to the industrial technical education schools, and encourage factories and companies in providing opportunities for students of technical education for training by studying the experience a successful factory BTM owner man national agenda Luis Bishara, where he founded the School for Technical Education Industrial specialty garments (Amal Bishara school for Technical Education) and to provide technical personnel to train these students to the actual needs of the labor market in this specialty, The importance of this study is to shed light on this successful experience and claim circulate among a large Ready Made Clothing Factory The result of this study found that there are statistically significant differences in favor of Amal Beshara School for Technical Education students for their peers in the schools of technical secondary industrial garment department, in terms of acquired skills in technical cadres working in the garment factories shelf. One of the main

Research Methodology: descriptive analytical procedure recommendations of the study societal need for partnership by technical education schools to private sector industrial specialty garments, as well as the dissemination of the experience of the establishment of technical schools where the joint supervision of the Ministry of Technical Education and major factories specializing

References

1-Ahmad EzzatAbdel Karim:"Education in the history of Egypt," the first part, the General Authority for Cultural Palaces, Cairo, 2011, p. 345

2-SaadAbdel AalAbdel Aal: "education-crisis acknowledge reality," - ١ Egyptian conditions, Political and Strategic Studies Center, the newspaper"Al-Ahram", Cairo, No. 45, Chriv-the winter of2010.

3-AzzaRita, "the importance of vocational training in meeting the - ٢ needs of the labor market," ManpowerBulletin:planning and development of a technical bulletin quarter Senyoah specialized in training,numberFifty-2003